

2019 Annual Report: SKY'S THE LIMIT

In 2018-2019, Finger Lakes Community College provided education and training services to more than 8,700 people. In the coming year, the College will begin planning a renovation and expansion of its nursing wing, following a gift of $3 million from the Sands Family Foundation, and continue its efforts to improve the student experience. This expansion and innovation would not happen without FLCC's partners throughout the community: local governments, employers, K-12 teachers and administrators, and generous benefactors.

'This scholarship is helping me achieve my dream'

Seven kids, ranging from age 1 to 20.

A part-time job in a busy hospital emergency room.

That's plenty for anyone to juggle. Demetrice Garcia of Newark does this and more: She's also enrolled full-time as a biotechnology major.

Demetrice – who is called “Demi” by family and friends – says she wouldn't be able to pursue her dream of earning a degree if it weren't for the support she has received from her employer, family and friends. Her perseverance was recognized at FLCC with another measure of relief: She was awarded the Fred and Mary Jennejahn Memorial Scholarship.

The $1,000 award was created by mathematics professor Bryan Ingham and his wife, Christine, in honor of his grandparents. Fred was a WWII veteran, Rotarian and volunteer firefighter, while his wife was a longtime middle school math teacher.

It is one of 113 scholarship funds the FLCC Foundation manages; about $150,000 is distributed each year, often in memory or honor of special people in the donors' lives.

Demetrice “Demi” Garcia of Newark is shown with FLCC mathematics professor Bryan Ingham. Bryan and his wife, Christine, started the scholarship that Demi received for the current academic year.

“I'm inspired by students like Demi who can manage so many things while attending school,” Bryan said. “It's an honor to be able to help Demi and her family with this scholarship.”

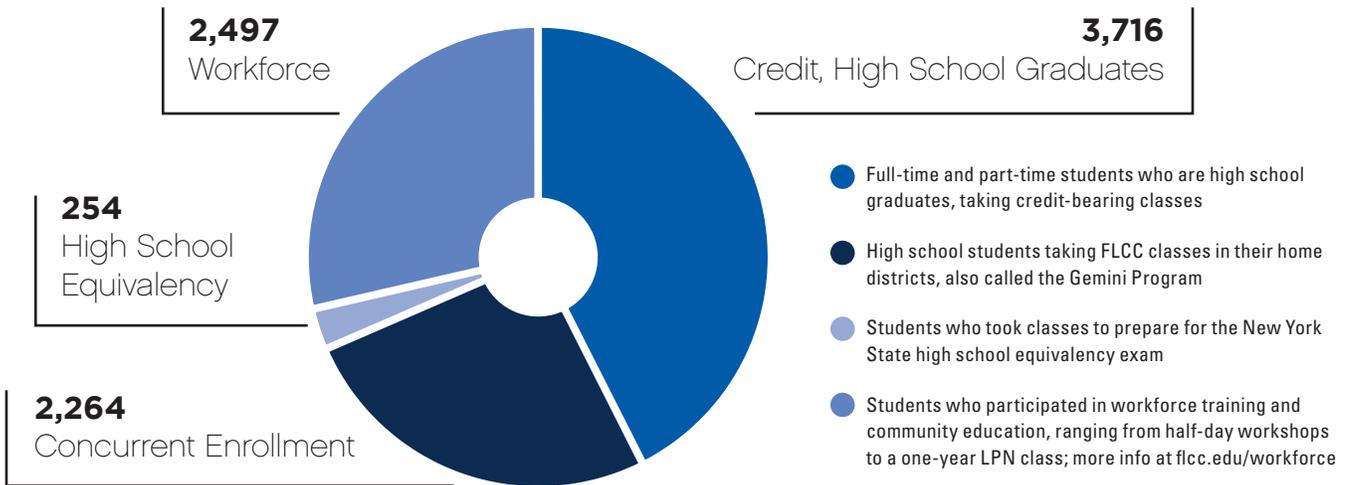

After graduating from Newark High School in 1996, Demi decided it wasn't the right time for her to attend college. A full-time job as a specimen processor in the blood draw lab at an area hospital brought financial stability and a renewed interest in college.

Demi switched departments and reduced her work hours, and enrolled in the fall of 2018 at FLCC, where her first-born is also a student. She hopes to complete her associate degree in December 2020.

“I keep thinking about it and I don't think I would be as happy and successful as I've been had I gone to college right out of high school. I am so thankful for the support I'm receiving from family and friends, and I'm grateful for this scholarship – it is helping me achieve my dream.”

Service to a Community

The College provided education and training to more than 8,700 people in 2018-19 through formal programming ranging from half-day workshops conducted by the Workforce and Career Solutions Office to degree and certificate programs. Here is a breakdown of the four basic groups FLCC serves.

Supporting the mission Kevin Murphy '74

I was fortunate enough to graduate from CCFL in 1974, and was part of the “storefront” campus. I focused on art, and then went on to SUNY Oswego, where I graduated in 1976. In 1980, I began a career at what became the Strong National Museum of Play. I enjoyed my time as the senior exhibit designer, and met and married my wife, Lorena Garmezy, who worked in the museum’s education department.

Lorena graduated from Cornell University in 1986, the third generation in her family to do so. Both of us value the importance of education as a solid foundation to success in life.

After I retired, Lorena and I moved to Canandaigua, into a home we built on the hills on the west side of Canandaigua Lake. We can see the College in the distance. It is a special place, and we are happy to support it.

We both are enthusiasts of good wine and have greatly enjoyed watching the spectacular development of the wine industry in the Finger Lakes, now producing world class wines. I have also enjoyed seeing CCFL/FLCC advance from the early storefront campus to the ever-growing, ever-improving modern campus of today. We are excited about the viticulture program at FLCC, and also the viticulture and enology program at Cornell. Both have top-of-the-line facilities.

It is our desire to ultimately reinforce the connection between FLCC and Cornell. For us, it is a personal connection, and we hope we can see more viticulture students from FLCC transfer to the Cornell viticulture program. — Kevin Murphy

report

Finger Lakes Community College works hand-in-hand with the nonprofit FLCC Foundation, founded in 1969 to foster partnerships that build on the College's mission to provide education and training throughout its four-county service area of Ontario, Seneca, Wayne and Yates.

2019-2020 Board of Trustees

FLCC is governed by a 10-member board of trustees, with five members appointed by the Ontario County Board of Supervisors, four appointed by the governor and a student trustee with full voting rights, elected by the student body.

2019-2020 FLCC Foundation Board of Directors

The FLCC Foundation connects people by engaging alumni and friends in projects that help first-generation, underrepresented and other determined students fulfill their potential. The organization manages scholarship funds and three properties on behalf of FLCC; the properties are the Honors House, Muller Field Station and East Hill Campus. It also raises funds for capital projects, equipment purchases, professional development and emergency needs.

Shared costs

Finger Lakes Community College's primary sources of funds are tuition and fees, state aid and counties. County revenue includes an annual contribution from FLCC's sponsor, Ontario County, and chargebacks, which are payments from the home counties of students who live outside Ontario.

Emergency Services

The College and the FLCC Foundation collaborate to provide emergency services for students in crisis. The Community Standards and Counseling Office staff meet with students to provide advisement through personal and financial crises. The Foundation provides financial resources to help students through tough times. For example, staff distribute gas cards, bus passes, clothing, food, and emergency loans to students in need.

During the 2018-19 academic year, 58 students used the food cupboard at least once, and 47 students borrowed a total of $18,605 in emergency loans. Loans ranged from $25 to $1,000; they can be used to pay utility, rent, car repair and other expenses, providing the stability students need to continue their coursework. Of the 47 borrowers, 36 had repaid their loans by the end of the academic year.

A review of students who received assistance show that they are more likely than the general student population to be the first generation in their families to attend college. Of those who received emergency services in fall 2018, 70 percent were retained in the spring 2019 semester.
